

Naloxone App (Name TBD)

By: Tomer Sheier and Mohmmadazhar Khalifa

What is Naloxone?

Naloxone is a medication approved by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) designed to rapidly reverse opioid overdose. It is an opioid antagonist, meaning it blocks the effects of opioids, which includes heroin, morphine, oxycodone, and many more drugs.

Naloxone comes in three forms: injectable, auto-injectable, and nasal spray

The largest company that produces Naloxone is Narcan. The medication's price at retail ranges between $112-$180 per dose.

Problem we are trying to solve? Why is it Important

Due to Naloxone being expensive, our goal is to make the medication more available, by creating a network for opioid addicts to get treatment in a fast way. This is important because the United States has been in an opioid epidemic for the past 20 years with no end in sight unless this system is implemented.
